

Dear supporters,

I'm writing to seek your support for a very important and special project.

As you are aware, a key issue for us is the legalisation of voluntary euthanasia across Australia so that people with a terminal illness, or chronic intolerable suffering can have the choice to die with dignity.

In February this year, Peter Short, 57-year-old CEO of Coles Express, was diagnosed with terminal oesophageal cancer and was given 3 to 9 months to live. Since his diagnosis, Peter has been on a mission to change the law to allow people such as himself to have legal end of life choice.

The Australian Sex Party are supporting Peter and a team of filmmakers who are creating a feature length documentary of Peter's journey. We see that this documentary as an integral part of achieving our goal of changing the law in-line with our policies.

We are asking you to kindly consider a donation towards the costs of producing this very important film. The filmmakers have a target of raising $100,000. Click on the link below to see a video message from Peter Short.

You can read more about Peter at his website and be sure to sign his petition in support of a change in the law.

Please visit the Indiegogo page to view a trailer for the film and make a donation today.

Thank you in advance for your support.
